Royal Mail: Strikes Suspended for Talks

August 9, 2007

The Communication Workers Union (“CWU”) has suspended its campaign of industrial action, including the postal strike due to start at 7:00pm today. Royal Mail’s management and union leaders held talks earlier today and have agreed to hold further, more detailed discussions regarding key issues. The two sides are committed to reaching an agreement by September 4th. The talks will be facilitated by the TUC. During the talks, the Royal Mail has agreed not to take any unilateral action and the union has agreed to suspend industrial action.

Brokers Worldwide will continue to collect UK-bound mail from our customers. Although the mail will reach the UK in the same amount of time as before, mail services within the UK will be subject to delay while the Royal Mail sorts through any backlog caused by the previous strike action. Brokers Worldwide will continue to monitor this situation, and will provide our customers with updates as they become available.
